As director of Skate 4Life, we have many instructors who work with us teaching skateboarding to the local children and youth. When we heard about the ISCP (International Skateboard Certification Program) /SKATZ (Stance, Kicks, Axel, Transfers and Zen) we had heard Mr. Jay Mandarino was coming to Peru, we reached out to get certified.

As well I learned to be a facilitator to train and teach other instructors to be certified.

Jay's program and approach was extremely informative and very helpful. We learned many things about the different teaching techniques and approaches including how to teach special needs kids.

The training and program is the best we have seen and we are glad this program was developed specifically for skateboarding. All of our instructors participated with much enthusiasm and it's clear that not only did they learn many new things but also their self-confidence and leadership skills improved. We were all excited and proud to be certified instructors now in a sport we all love.

Jay spent extra time with us and we appreciate all his efforts and patience he took with us. His knowledge and many skills he has helped us all to improve and we thank him for taking the time to work with us.
