SCENARIO #1

SKATEPARK TRANSITION

An instructor is taking their students to another part of the park. On the way, 7-year old Adam notices a skateboard truck on the skatepark floor. It seems the instructor always has to retrieve Adam, who is wandering off from class regularly.

The instructor asks Adam to put the skateboard truck part down and return to the lesson.

UNDER THE WEATHER

The instructor, Dave, is not feeling 100%, but came into work under the weather anyway. Dave is short-tempered and impatient with the students. Alicia begins to cry when the instructor raises their voice to insist Alicia should come to class having eaten, instead of snacking in the skatepark.

THE CAMP

Gavin does not want to skateboard during the scheduled skate-camp class time.

The skate instructor is aware that his parents are possibly going to separate. The instructor is able to take just a couple of extra minutes to check in with Gavin. The instructor calls his supervisor to assist with the situation. This results in a call from the supervisor to Gavin's parent who returns to the park to bring Gavin safely home.
